

ABSTRACT

Title: "Views on newly married girls regarding bridal make-up practices and problems faced during make-up".

Introduction:

Make-up plays an essential role in human appearance. And everybody wants to look gorgeous and beautiful so the use of make-up is rising among girls. Because of make-up face becomes more attractive and striking.

Objective:

To know the different experiences and problems of newly married girls related to their bridal make-up.

Methodology:

Views of 50 newly married girls were taken with the help of self administered Questionnaire. Random Sampling method was used for the selection of sample size. The Preferences of different girls for their wedding make-up were identified through the analyzed percentages and frequencies received from the collected data.

Result:

After the analysis and discussions of result it was found that most of girls faced good experiences regarding their bridal make-up. In selection of make-up type simple wedding, model make-up and smoky were most favorable and also popular in bridal make-up. Facial was selected by majority of girls for their skin treatment. And problems related to skin were also found in which redness on skin, irritation and pimples were most common. Girls also face skin problem after using cosmetics products like foundation, mascara, eyeliner and false eye lash.

Conclusion:

Based on the finding of the study the following conclusion has been reached that there is no significant difference between make-up practices of newly married girls but there is an association between both girl's views.

This research will help girls to understand practices and problems regarding bridal make-up.